THINGS LOOK BETTER IN DENVER

Many Dead, However, Cannot Be Buried for Some Days

PEOPLE FREEZING AND STARVING IN MOUNTAINS

Well-Developed Cases Smallpox Found at Aguilar—Disease Spreads

DENVER, Dec. 9.—Storm conditions are improving but are still abnormal. The bodies of thirty-four dying during the last five days await burial. It will be ten days before funerals will be possible. Car traffic downtown is normal, but not restored in many suburbs. The city commissioners have called upon citizens to devote tomorrow to clearing the streets in the outlying districts.

John Evans, retired millionaire; Fred Moffatt, railroad owner, and Lucius M. Cuthbert, multi-millionaire, were among those who wielded a shovel all day in the Capital Hill district. Gerald Hughes, son of former Senator Hughes, bossed a gang of men in the Park Hill district.

Terror in the Mountains

From the mountains come stories of many frozen to death and of others starving. The bodies of the dead lie in their cabins and it will be impossible for undertakers to reach them for days. The sick and starving are compelled to go without relief.

Awful Plague, Too

Fourteen well-developed cases of smallpox have been discovered among the militiamen at Aguilar, a camp near Trinidad. The disease is said to have spread to the strikebreakers employed at some of the mines. Governor Ammons will send aid as soon as the snow to the camps can be broken.

BRITISH PRESS WAXES WARM

Telegraph Declares that America is First in Boxing Methods

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The London press is again rampant on athletics, touching especially on British decadence in sports. This was prompted today by the defeat last night of their pugilistic champion, Bombardier Wells, by the French champion, Carpenter, and the recent defeat of their lightweight crack, Matt Wells, by an Australian. The Times demands that Britons take up American training methods.

The Daily Mail declares Bombardier's defeat is "the Waterloo of English boxing." The Telegraph declares that "America is first in boxing."

SALAD POISONS MANY STUDENTS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 9.—Ruby Lynch, a student from Ames, Iowa, died today of ptomaine poisoning. Six others are near death and several are very ill. Physicians say they were poisoned by salad. The most seriously ill are Ruby Shelton, Frances MacLaughlin, Helen Hurd of Los Angeles; Florence Gamble, Hartford; Alice Briggs, of Hollywood, and Ruth Brooks of San Jose.

RITCHIE, MURPHY READY TO BATTLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Willie Ritchie died seven miles on the road this morning, practically concluding his training for tomorrow night's championship battle with Tommy Murphy. Ritchie is already a pound below weight and will rest from now on. Murphy claims he is in the best condition of his career, and both claim victory. Ritchie is the betting favorite, two to one.

Winged Cars to Carry the Mail Over the Land

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Practical trial of government ownership of railway mail cars is proposed in a bill approved yesterday by the house post-office and postroads committee. The measure would appropriate $100,000 to be used by the postmaster-general in buying and operating a number of cars as an experiment. The committee also voted to report favorably on a bill to appropriate $100,000 for experiments in carrying the mail by aeroplanes.

Another Drydock For San Francisco

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Absolute necessity for drydocks on the Pacific coast, in which the great battleships of the Atlantic fleet can be docked when they pass through the Panama canal, has led Secretary Daniels to seek authority from Congress to enter into an unusual contract with a private corporation, which already owns docks at the entrance of San Francisco harbor, to construct another great dock on the basis of a guaranteed compensation in so many thousands tons of naval docking per annum.

Police Capture Love Lorn Elopers

AURORA, Ill., Dec. 9.—A boy and girl, the former fifteen and the latter one year younger, were found asleep in the railroad station here. A policeman interrupted their dreams and the elopers from Chicago were locked up. They are Anthony Marteno, son of a retired grocer, and Consuetta Demando, child of a commission merchant at 919 Froquer street.

"I love Tony," said Consuetta. "We want to be married."

They were taken home.

Brazil's President Was Wedded Today

Oakland Has Women Policemen

OAKLAND, Dec. 9.—Policewomen made their advent in Oakland today when the city council finally passed an ordinance creating a woman protective bureau, providing for two constables.

Mayor Mott soon afterward announced the appointment of Miss Beatrice McCall for chief of the bureau at $175 a month, and Miss Alice Richardson for her secretary and assistant at $100 a month.

International Day Wanted for the Navy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—By an overwhelming vote the house yesterday passed the Hensley resolution requesting President Wilson, so far as he can do so with due regard for the interests of the United States, to cooperate with the suggestion of Winston Churchill, lord of the British admiralty, for an international naval holiday of one year. The vote was 347 to 11.

Can Keep Age a Deep Secret

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—County Judge E. H. Owens has decided that women applicants for places as judges and clerks of elections will not have to tell their ages. They will answer only the question as to whether they are "of lawful voting age." Men applicants will have to tell their ages.

HINDU IMMIGRATION STOPPED

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—The further immigration of laborers and artisans into British Columbia from the south was prohibited until March 1, in a council order today. The order is intended to stop Hindu immigration, owing to overcrowded conditions in the provinces. The labor market provided a chance for action. The order does not prevent immigration of labor from Europe or other sections of Canada.

WANTS SHARE OF PROFITS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 9.—William Niles of New York, owner of 600 shares of stock in the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, which is in the hands of a receiver, has petitioned the federal court for permission to sue present and former officials of the road for profits he alleges made as members of a syndicate promoting and selling to the company several short feeder lines in the South.

MAN'S ASHES TRAVEL ACROSS THE CONTINENT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 9.—The ashes of Will Buford, who died in a small California town, which were shipped here by parcel post, were buried today by the side of his child at Capeville, a suburb. Buford's will provided that his body be cremated and the ashes entrusted to the mail.

WILSON'S CHARGE OF LOBBYING UPHELD

House Committee Sustains President Unanimously in Report

DEMOCRATS, REPUBLICANS JOIN IN DENOUNCING

Congressman McDonald Made Separate Report in Stronger Terms

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The President's charge of an insidious lobby existing in Washington was sustained by the unanimous report from the house committee which investigated. Democrats and Republicans joined in denouncing the lobbies, the lobbyists, largely endorsing the story told by Col. Martin Mulhall, including charges against the National Association of Manufacturers. Congressman McDonald made a separate report even more strongly denouncing the lobby than the regular report.

SERIOUS FIRE INJURES FIVE

Cigarette Ignites Gas at Oil Well—Five Men Suffer Painful Burns

TAFT, Cal., Dec. 9.—Five men were seriously, and perhaps fatally, burned today in an oil well fire. The injured are R. W. Patterson, L. F. Brittain, J. F. Richardson, Otto Munson, L. F. Davin. They were taken to the Taft hospital. Many had their ears and noses burned off.

The fire was caused by the ignition of gas surrounding the well by a cigarette in the mouth of a hunter who had stopped to rest.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Dec. 9.—At Judge Blair's order the jury trying Dr. William Craig on the charge of murdering Dr. Helen Knabe at Indianapolis two years, rendered a verdict of acquittal.

The defense yesterday moved that the prosecution failed to produce incriminating evidence and that it was unnecessary for the defendant to offer evidence in his behalf. Therefore, the judge should instruct for acquittal. Judge Blair concurred today.

MRS. PANKHURST GOES TO PARIS

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Pankhurst started for Paris today to visit her daughter, Christobel, who is in exile there on account of her militancy. The length of her visit is not stated, but the general impression is that it will be indefinite. The authorities made no attempt to prevent her departure. It is unofficially stated that they will be pleased if she remains away.

She was so weak from her hunger strike in Exeter jail that she was taken to the station in an ambulance. She traveled in the same train with the Queen of Spain, who was returning to Madrid after a visit to the English royal family.

PHOEBE COUZENS DEAD

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 9.—Miss Phoebe Couzens, one of the first women lawyers in the United States, and the only woman who ever served as deputy United States marshal, passed away here Saturday afternoon. She had been in straitened circumstances for some time.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 9.—Al Jennings, reformed bandit and train robber, now a respected and successful attorney-at-law, will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma, according to an announcement yesterday.

REBEL GENERAL WRITES HUNT LETTER

Carranza Says No Quarter for Deserting Federals if He Takes Mexico

MISSIVE ANSWER TO HUNT'S PLEA FOR MERCY

Constitutional Leader Will Pursue Present Policy—Upholds Villa

PHOENIX, Dec. 9.—In a letter to Governor Hunt, Carranza, the Mexican constitutional leader, declares he will show no quarters to Mexican federal officers who deserted from the constitutionalists, if he takes Mexico City. Carranza replied to a letter from Hunt requesting mercy to prisoners, and declaring the Juarez massacres, saying the entire world will cause such actions to rebound to the chagrin of the constitutionalists.

Carranza said: "I have determined with the spirit of a constitutionalist and without a feeling of passion, to pursue these ends until the exercise of magnanimity and clemency can be attained. I have determined to enforce vigorously the law of Juarez, which defines and punishes offenses inimical to public peace."

The Carranza letter was lengthy, and defended Villa's executions at Juarez.

Dictator Makes Threat

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 9.—"I may be driven out, but before I go I will do something that will make me go down in history for a hundred years," President Huerta is quoted as saying today to a prominent Mexican.

The dictator is vacillating in his actions and orders. He ordered General Navarrete to succeed General Teles, and almost immediately revoked the order, summoning Navarrete to the palace. Many Americans started for Vera Cruz today, fearing there will soon be real fighting here.

Visitors to the palace this afternoon declared that Huerta was drunk again.

Reports have been received of small battles in various central and southern states.

Refugees at Ojinaga

EL PASO, Dec. 9.—Many Mexican refugees are at Ojinaga today, where General Mercado is erecting fortifications, apparently intending a long stay. Many federals who fled to Chihuahua say now there are rumors of Villa returning to give battle. Other reports, which seem more probable, have Villa occupying Chihuahua and ready to continue to Mexico City.

STEAMER IN PORT AFTER BAD TRIP

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 9.—Rolling helplessly for twenty-two hours in the trough of a rough sea, its propeller badly damaged and at the mercy of the wind and tide, the Mexican steamship Victoria, which left Ensenada Saturday night at 8 o'clock, narrowly escaped disaster off the Coronado islands Sunday and reached San Diego yesterday. The Victoria carried fourteen cabin passengers. High seas that broke the rudder chain and swung the rudder around on the propeller caused the accident.

A heavy jar, as if the ship had struck, was felt by all aboard about 12:30 Sunday morning. The sea was rough, but the wind, fortunately, had died down. The ship lay by until daybreak, when Purser Lemoine was taken ashore in a life boat.

Lemoine walked fifteen miles along the beach of the mainland before reaching a place where he could get into communication with San Diego.

SEATTLE VISITED BY DENSE FOG

SEATTLE, Dec. 9.—An impenetrable fog mist is covering the city and Sound today. Traffic on water is almost impossible and even vehicles ashore carried lights. The gasoline tug La Paloma ran ashore and burned, and business generally is hampered.

$400 PAID BY STATE FOR RENT OF RIFLE RANGE WAS NOT RECEIVED BY RIFLE CLUB

Bonding Company Will Have to Produce to Cover Bogus Voucher of 1911

A bonding company will have to produce $400 that was paid by the state of California to Capt. N. A. Uim for rent of the Santa Ana Rifle Club range, which $400 was never received by the rifle club.

Last night Col. Schreffer, in command of the Seventh Regiment, N. G.C., was here and with First Lieutenant J. L. McBride, who took charge of Company L upon the death of Capt. Uim, checked over the books of the deceased captain. The first lieutenant had previously checked over the property of the company, and found it intact, excepting a few shirts and other articles such as are constantly missed from any armory.

The result of the investigation of the armory's affairs indicates that there is no shortage there. Under the rules it is necessary for a quarterly settlement to be made by the captain with the state, and at the last quarterly settlement Capt. Uim was square with the state.

During the last year in command, Capt. Uim had personal bondsmen, and from present indications there will be no shortage for them to meet. If there is any shortage it will be but a small amount. A court of inquiry will be appointed to go over the vouchers and funds of the company. Its report will be final and official.

The $400 matter in connection with the Santa Ana Rifle Club dates back to 1911 when Capt. Uim made arrangements for the use of the rifle range by Company L at a rental of $400. Company L used the range, when the rent came due Capt. Uim stated that the state had refused payment because two of the targets had not been in condition. The rifle club let the matter go, and thought little more of it until after Capt. Uim's suicide. A letter was written to the adjutant general asking if a voucher had ever been turned in for $400 rent. The answer has come back that the voucher was returned, showing a receipt. The rifle club did not make a receipt for the reason that it never received the money. The club will demand payment, and it will be up to the state to make the surety company come through with the money.

It is probable that a meeting of the stockholders of the Santa Ana Armory, a corporation, will be called soon. E. E. Hardy has experted the books, but the board of directors will not be ready to make its report to the stockholders until a number of minor matters are looked up. It is reported that the shortage, if any, in this company will be far less than at first estimated.

F. W. Mansur, special deputy of the state building and loan commissioner appointed to settle up the affairs of the Orange County Mutual Building & Loan Association, is at work on the books. He will begin the publication of his notice to creditors soon.

Sugar Factory Sued for $20,000 Damages

As the result of an accident that occurred on Nov. 4, the Santa Ana Cooperative Sugar Company was today made defendant in two damage suits aggregating $20,200.

On Nov. 4, Pedro A. Infante, aged 15, was employed at the factory feeding pulp into a grinding machine used to grind samples of sugar beets from which tests as to the sugar percentage were made. Pedro had one hand caught in the revolving knives and four fingers of one hand were taken off.

For the loss of his fingers, Pedro brought the suit, who is apparently as his guardian ad litem, asks $15,000 damages and $100 for money spent for aid.

A second suit has been brought by the boy's mother, Pabla Lopez Infante, who asserts that she depended upon the boy for support. The boy was working a night shift for $2 a day. For the loss of the boy's services the mother asks $5,100 damages. A. R. Holston of Los Angeles is attorney for the plaintiff.

CHURCH HELPS LABOR FIGHTS AT RED BLUFF

OAKLAND, Dec. 9.—For the first time in the history of California a large and representative church organization has concerned itself in what appears to be an organized labor fight. This developed here when an announcement was made that members of the First Congregational church of Oakland have taken up arms against what they call unfair treatment accorded prisoners arrested for alleged participation in the Westland hop riots last August.

First steps were taken at a meeting called by the Rev. Ray F. Carter, pastor of the church. It was attended by trustees, deacons, and many other members.

Attorney Edward Morgan addressed the meeting, declaring that 2300 laborers, answering advertisements, went to the hop ranch where the riots occurred, and were not fairly treated. It is alleged that justice is not being accorded prisoners taken following killings in connection with the riots. The meeting by a unanimous vote decided to appoint a committee of five to make a more thorough investigation.

PROTEST ABOUT HIGHER RATES

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 9.—Before Special Examiner Edward H. Hart, hearings are being held here of protests against proposed increases in fruit shipping rates. The meetings are being held under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The cases cover the transportation of fruit and vegetables from California, Arizona and Nevada. It is proposed by the transportation companies to increase the rates approximately 30 per cent. Witnesses for the railroads, fruit raisers, truck gardeners and produce and commission men are here to testify.

DISSOLUTION OF BOARD ASKED

Butter and Egg Combination Accused of Restraint of Trade

BOUGHT COMMODITIES AT LOW PRICES

Prices Then Forced Up to High Figures in Central, and Western States

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—The dissolution of the Chicago Butter and Egg Board and the Elgin Butter and Egg Board as a combination in restraint of trade was asked today by Master in Chancery A. B. Morrison, who filed his report in Federal Judge Kohlstaet's court. The court will hear arguments on the application.

The report said that careful investigation showed the two organizations to be working in unison and arbitrarily fixing wholesale butter and egg prices in the central and western states. It is also alleged that the concern forced wholesale prices down during periods of plenty, and that while these periods continued their agents contracted for all the available supply at low quotations. Then, Morrison said, the prices were boosted.

For the loss of his fingers, Pedro brought the suit, who is apparently as his guardian ad litem, asks $15,000 damages and $100 for money spent for aid.

A second suit has been brought by the boy's mother, Pabla Lopez Infante, who asserts that she depended upon the boy for support. The boy was working a night shift for $2 a day. For the loss of the boy's services the mother asks $5,100 damages. A. R. Holston of Los Angeles is attorney for the plaintiff.

WILL BLOW UP PUBLIC PLACES

Titus Alexander, Colored, Threatens to Dynamite Buildings Drawing Color Line

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.—Threats to dynamite all cafes, theaters and other quasi-public institutions that draw the color line and refuse either admittance or service to negroes, unless a punitive measure is passed, were made in the city council chamber yesterday by Titus Alexander, representing colored people who want the council to enact a law doing away with discrimination against negroes.

Alexander, colored, was one of the speakers at a meeting of the Public Welfare Committee, which was held in the negroes' side of the case through F. W. Allender, Independent Civic League attorney, and others. Allender, however, did not figure in the dynamiting threat.

Colored persons had given evidence to the committee of being discriminated against in several theaters, cafes and other places, and demanded an ordinance which would revoke the licenses of any place that draws the color line. City Attorney Stephens yesterday submitted an opinion for the guidance of the committee, stating that the council had power to make any such discrimination a misdemeanor, punishable by fine, but did not have the right to revoke a license because of discrimination.

The representatives of the colored complainants then submitted a proposed draft of an ordinance making a violation punishable by a fine of from $50 to $500. This was under advisement by the committee.

"If you don't do something to stop this discrimination," said Alexander, "the colored people of Los Angeles will use dynamite on some of these theaters and restaurants that discriminate against them."

HEARST NOW OWNS 3 'FRISCO PAPERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—W. R. Hearst today is running three newspapers in San Francisco. By the purchase of the Post by the Call, announced finally on Saturday, he now owns the Examiner, the Call, and the Post—three out of San Francisco's six newspapers.

After days of wavering to and fro, mysterious rumors and abrupt denials, the Post gave up the ghost Saturday. The staff of the Post was called together and briefly informed that their services would be no longer needed, at any rate by the Post; but that they might report to F. W. Kellogg, publisher of the Call.

Teams From Orange and Anaheim Contest for County Championship

An event of unusual interest to Odd Fellows will be the contest for county championship honors between the first degree teams of Anaheim lodge No. 199, which now holds the title, and the lodge at Orange, led by former District Deputy Perry, whose challenge for a second trial has been accepted after their defeat in the first contest between the two teams. There will be a number of visitors from the Orange lodge at the meeting, which will take place at the hall of Anaheim lodge Tuesday night. Members of the order from other towns in the county, including Santa Ana, Westminster and Fullerton, are expected, as well as a delegation from American lodge of Los Angeles, who will act as judges of the contest. The floor work of the Anaheim team, as the result of diligent practice, constant and long-continued, is superb, and they are confident of retaining the banner, having been victors in three previous attempts which have been made to take away the coveted honor. Of course, the splendid reputation of Anaheim lodge for hospitality to visitors will be sustained in the banquet which is to follow the drill work. All Odd Fellows, whether members here or not, will receive a cordial welcome.

EBELL'S CHILDREN'S DAY

Picture Play of Mother Goose Rhymes Enacted by Children Enjoyed by All

Probably one of the most enjoyable programs given by the Ebells Society, was the Children's Day affair at the regular meeting Saturday, an afternoon long to be remembered by both young and old. The program was planned and worked up by Mrs. Henry Dyer, and the children were equal to their parts in every instance.

The first number was a piano solo beautifully rendered by Miss Lois Dyer, who is fast gaining a local reputation for her marked ability at the piano. Her numbers were heartily enjoyed.

The hall was then darkened, and an hour with Mother Goose in living pictures was given by the children. A gilt-framed cabinet was prepared, which reflected inside, throwing lights on the grotesque little figures who posed so quietly one could easily imagine they were looking upon a picture.

There was Mother Goose with her broom, posed by Edith Redd; Little Girl who had a Little Curl, by Edith Falkenstein; Maud Muller raking hay, Ruth Chamberlain; the Queen of Hearts, she made some tarts, by Dorothy Griggs; the Knave of Hearts, who stole the tarts, Jacob Hartfield; Little Miss Muffet, Anabell Griggs; Mistress Mary quite contrary, Mary Lucille Parker and Stanley Frankenstein; Little Red Riding Hood, Anna Harbeson; the Wolf, Marlow Jans; Where Are You Going My Pretty Maid, Catherine Adams, Tommy Kemp.

Little Boy Blue, Tommy Kemp; Little Jack Horner, Anabelle Griggs; Humpty-Dumpty, Clinton Griggs; Old Mother Hubbard, Fern Quanton and her dog; Ding Dong Bell, Irene Griggs and Hubert Jans; and Tom Parker (the cat); Jack Spratt and his wife, Catherine Adams and Stanley Falkenstein; Babes in the Woods, Martha Adams and Tommy Kuchel; The Poor Indian, Jacob Hartfield.

Following this number Mary Lucille Parker gave in her winning manner, "The Story's Birthday," by Kathryn Dyer of Anaheim. She was called back to acknowledge an encore, after which the applause continued with calls for the author, until Mrs. Dyer appeared and thanked the audience for the honor bestowed and gave by special request, "Down in the Valley Below," a poem of her own construction, written after the frost last January.

Miss Fay Kern gave "Christmas Day in the Morning," showing ability unusual in one so young. She responded with "That Little Dog."

Another delightful number by Lois Dyer concluded the program, when Mother Goose, Bo-Peep and Red Riding Hood went into the audience with baskets of Christmas stockings well filled. After a lively romp the youngsters went home happy and full of the occasion.

DRAMA ABROAD AND AT HOME

By Beau Rialto

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Patrons of the Keith vaudeville circuit next week, expecting to see and hear Marie Lloyd, the London singing comedienne, who after admitting she came over with a jockey, not her husband, was permitted to enter the United States by the same board of immigration officials who barred Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette, are doomed to disappointment. The United Booking Office in New York cancelled Miss Lloyd's contracts because of her irregularities and eccentricities. On several occasions Miss Lloyd failed to appear and gave "illness" as her excuse. On other occasions, when her position on the bill did not suit her, the English music hall artiste sang her songs in slipshod manner that displeased the managers. The climax came when Miss Lloyd was summoned to the United Booking Office's headquarters this week, after she failed to appear at the Orpheum theatre, Brooklyn.

E. F. Albee, manager of the United Booking Office sent for Miss Lloyd to reprimand her. Pat Casey carried the summons and brought the singer to the offices. In the elevator they met Albee, and Casey introduced the English woman to his chief. Marie failed to catch the name, and launched into a general tirade against American vaudeville methods, in which she paid her respects to Albee in the best terms of the London "alls. When they got upstairs, Albee cancelled her contracts. There is reason to believe that Maria Beck of the Orpheum circuit may take similar action. There will be nothing left then for Marie to do but to go back to London. The United States immigration authorities who held her up at Ellis Island because she traveled with a jockey admitted not her husband, admitted her only because of her contracts and her agreement to leave when they expired.

Not since those supposedly perennial honeymooners, Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth, got divorced in Chicago, has the Rialto had such a thrill as when press dispatches the other day announced the wedding out in Ann Arbor, Mich., of Eva Tanguay and Johnny Ford, her leading man dancer. Broadway simply would not believe it until the female St. Vitus herself wired: "I have married Johnny Ford, the only man I ever loved." There was a sting in the tag end of that telegram that found its way to the vanity centers of divers gentlemen on Main street, but like the giant that Siegfried slew, in the excitement they did not know that they had been cut down until they shook themselves afterward. "Just give an imitation of me," yelled the cyclonic one, when friends asked her how she liked being married. "I don't care," she shrieked when reminded that her nuptials were not in the least romantic. The fact is that Eva and John walked casually across an alley between shows. From the stage door to a cobwebby squire's office and were hitched. First of Johnny, who admitted that it was his second trip to the altar, did not have a license and when the justice asked for the very necessary document Ford said he didn't know it was required. He hustled out after the "papers" and Eva did a sneak back to the theatre.

The second time it was harder work to get the blushing bride across the alley. There was a crowd by then and Eva did not relish publicity so she said. But finally she was hoisted into the marriage shop again and the squire said they were married. "Surely" gasped the unsophisticated Tanguay "surely this does not make us man and wife." The dancer said she was 23 and never married before. Johnny said he was 32.

"The Tongues of Men," Henrietta Cressman's new play, talked too much and said too little. The play, after a fortnight's run, closed this week at the Harris, and the callboard conveyed no information to the company as to its future destination. Too many words and too little action was the trouble with the piece.

"The Misleading Lady," a conglomeration by Charles Goddard and Paul Dickey, bids fair to keep up the Fulton's reputation for hoodlums. It is so hopeless that the critics and first-nighters were for once agreed. Their verdict was that the piece could not last. The misled playwrights violated all precedents by mixing fantasia and melodrama. The unexpected all ways happened. That is a good quality in a play so long as the unexpected is thrust in without rhyme or reason, it is inexcusable.

The "Misleading Woman" is a would-be actress who, to convince a manager that she can play the lead in a new drama, makes a man who she cares nothing for, propose to her. He is a "cave man" with accessories. He will not take no for an answer, but muffs the girl in a rug and carries her off to his mountain bungalow in a high powered automobile. There he chains her up with a leash taffan off his dog.

Comes a lunatic escaped from a nearby asylum who thinks he is Napoleon. He is supposed to furnish the comedy. After a lot of unusual happenings that make the audience expect that after all the end will be worth while, the misleading lady accepts the modern "cave man" and the lunatic is taken back to the asylum. That's all.

SHALL INDIANS PAY THIS TAX

Is an Indian, dwelling on his tribal reservation and drawing an income of more than $3000 a year, subject to the new income law?

This is a question which John P. Carter, collector of internal revenue for this district, has asked F. H. Osborn, commissioner of internal revenue at Washington, to answer.

Mr. Carter says he knows of no Indians on reservations in this part of California who are sufficiently wealthy to pay an income tax, but the Osage Indians of Oklahoma are. These Indians are said to be the wealthiest nation in the world.

The average income per capita in the United States is about $1600 a year. The average income of the Osage Indians is approximately $8000.

The wealth of these Indians is another illustration of the fairness of Uncle Sam in dealing with his copper-colored children. The government bought thousands of acres from the Osage Indians, paid the real value of the land, and created a trust fund for the benefit of the aboriginal owners. They are now realizing the benefits of that fund.

WANT TO KNOW WHY BUILDING OF ROAD IS TO BE DELAYED

A number of Newport Beach people are reported to have planned an appearance before the County Highway Commission to urge that the Newport road be completed as soon as possible. The anxiety of the beach people has been caused by the expectation of the commission to delay letting the contract for Section No. 1 of the Santa Ana-Newport Beach road until about next March. The contract for Section No. 2 is to be let this afternoon. The reason given for delaying the contract on No. 1 is that a portion of the Section 1 lies through mud flats. Should a contractor begin work now rain would run up the cost of construction rapidly. It is estimated that it would cost $3 a yard instead of $2 for handling a portion of the material. If the contract is let in the spring, the road will be finished during the summer. Travel to Newport Beach will not be interrupted in meantime, as by taking the Old Newport section roads the road soon to be paved on the Newport Beach road can be reached.

ORGANIZE COMPANY TO RUN AUTO BUSES ALONG COAST LINE

Yesterday evening a big automobile bus making a return trip from Los Angeles to San Diego passed through Santa Ana. The machine is owned by a company now being organized to operate a line of automobile buses between San Diego and Los Angeles. The promoters of the plan say the company will be capitalized for $100,000, and that the sight-seeing feature of the trips will draw much patronage. The autos will make the run from one place to the other in seven to nine hours. It is proposed to include Santa Ana in the schedule. There were thirteen passengers in the trial trip finished yesterday.

THE REINSPIRATION OF EXPIRED AIR

Under ordinary conditions of breathing some of the expired air must be drawn back again into the lungs. A few experiments to determine the proportion of the breath that is re-inspired have been made during the last fifteen years, but no really thorough study of the question was carried out until the recent work of Crowder. This investigator has studied by ingenious methods the effect of change of position, body motion, different types of breathing and different temperatures, and in addition has determined the conditions that obtain on the sleeping-porch and in the open air. His conclusions are that (1) a person remaining quiet and indoors will immediately rebreathe from 1 to 2 per cent of his own expired air; (2) when lying in bed the percentage is higher, rising to from 4 to 10 per cent, depending on the position assumed while sleeping. "Nor does sleeping in the open insure pure air for breathing. The same influences here produce the same relative results that they do inside. When one buries his head between pillow and bedclothes for the sake of warmth, re-inspiration is inevitable, and it is not necessarily small in amount."

The significance of this study in connection with questions of ventilation is obvious. Since even under the most favorable conditions we cannot avoid drawing back into the lungs some of the air that has just passed out of them, not much importance can be attached to the slight variations in carbonic acid gas which occur in the air of rooms. A little deeper breathing seems to be the utmost physiologic effect that could be caused. These experiments also furnish additional evidence against the theory that efficient ventilation consists in the chemical purity of the air, in its freedom from "a toxic organic substance." Even were a poisonous substance present in the expired air—a fact no experimenter has yet been able to demonstrate—the human body under every-day conditions is apparently well able to adjust itself to the re-inhalation of this hypothetical substance, since a considerable quantity of the expired air is always taken back into the lungs.

The failure of many expensive ventilation systems to confer the comfort expected from them has been due to neglect of such facts, says the Journal of the American Medical Association. The attempts to "renew" the air by displacing a certain volume at regular intervals were based on the theory that good ventilation was due to freedom from the chemical constituents of expired air. We now know that this practice did not achieve the end aimed at, because the essential factors in good ventilation are not freedom from carbonic acid gas or from a mythical organic poison, but are coolness, dryness and motion. Crowder's work brings the old and new theories of ventilation into sharp contrast. "The theory of displacement does not sufficiently take into consideration that all animals possessing lungs ventilate them on a very simple principle of dilution; nor does the pure air theory sufficiently consider that the air of the lungs always remains highly contaminated with their own excretory gases, and that there is such an effective barrier as the dead space against the lowering of the contamination."

THE CITRUS FRUIT INDUSTRY

Department of Service to Citrus Fruit Growers, Conducted Especially for the Register.

Copyrighted by Reginald Brinsmead.

THE SOUTHERN NAVEL CROP.

While the shipments and Christmas fruit from the southern citrus belt are moderate in extent, the quality of the fruit going forward is exceptionally fine. The factors tending to hold back the shipment of the southern navel crop are (1) the heavy movement from Tulare county and Florida and the increased imports from Jamaica and Porto Rico; (2) the shortage of fruit in the southern orchards, which promises a more profitable market later in the season; (3) the sizes of well colored fruit, which though rapidly growing at the present time, is not running heavily to large sizes. Northern shipments and the Florida crop are neither running heavily to large sizes, so that the prospects for heavy shipments at this time of medium sized fruit from the southern belt are not such as to warrant any expectations of very high prices for them.

Although the first sales of desirable, large sized, California navels showed satisfactory prices, the margin between the different sizes was seldom greater than at these eastern auctions, and small sized cars of Floridas, Jamaicas, and Porto Ricans have in some cases netted less than expenses.

In connection with the present free importations of Jamaica oranges, under the new tariff, it is interesting to note that our consul at that point, under date of October 28 last, stated that the reduction of the duty promised a big increase in the imports of Jamaica oranges and grape fruit into the United States. The same report states that the exports from Jamaica to the United States for the first nine months of 1913 was 9,439,815 oranges—47,250 cases,—being an increase of 8,378,575 oranges—41,859 cases,—over the same period of 1912, or an increase of 88 per cent. The increase of grape fruit for the same period, from 5,382 cases in 1912 to 11,963 for the present year, amounts to 45 per cent. Being marketed at the same time as the Northern or Central California crops these importations of cheap fruit are a factor in the markets, tending to the earlier maturing crops from Northern California and Florida to lessen the demand for early southern fruit. Some fruit has gone forward from practically all the southern districts, Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange and Los Angeles counties have all packed some fruit, and the first ten days of December show considerable activity in many packing houses. The fruit being packed at all points shows exceptionally fine texture, and excellent eating qualities, promising to give good satisfaction to the consumer as to sugar and juice contents as well as to color.

The quality of the navel crop this season at this date has seldom been exceeded, and it is several years since early shipments showed up so well.

The first auctions held by the California fruit auction company in Los Angeles have proved successful, and the Home auction is now an established factor in the marketing of the California orange crop.

Estimates of the new southern navel crop are distinctly favorable, and profitable markets are looked for as the main shipping season opens up.

The Political Watchtower

There is generally a quiet before a storm. At least, there is an accepted saying that indicates that a good many people are fearful lest a storm follow quietness.

Just now it is rather quiet in local politics. It may be the quietness that gives notice in advance that there is going to be something doing along about the first of the year.

Most of the wise ones are expecting things to begin to pop soon after the first days of January. Many of the candidates would like to put the opening of hostilities off until a later date. Those who went through the campaigns of four years and two years ago say that beginning a campaign too early is not an advantage in many ways. It grows almighty wearisome before the primaries roll around.

However, when one man is avowedly out for an office, the other fellow who also wants that office gets nervous. He wants to get in and tie up his friends to work for him before the opponent gets to them. So in he jumps, and early or late, the race is on, and unless something happens it is going to stay on with possibly other entries until the last vote is counted.

So it seems highly probable that along the first of the year candidates not yet spoken of will begin to feel of the public pulse and the voter's hand.

The Watchman has said it a good many times, and he says it again, nearly every county official who is due to have his term end on the first Monday in January, 1915, expects to be a candidate for re-election. There are none of them seeking a chair in the Has Been gallery.

There has been some interesting stirring among the Orange county Democrats over the post office appointments. Congressman Kettner was here for a few hours, and presumably he learned a large amount concerning Who's Who while he was here. He told the Santa Ana leaders that he was going to go to Anaheim and spend a little time to look over the political field, fences and favorites in the post office situation. J. Frederick Ahlborn has the endorsement of the county central committee, but there are several contenders who think that Ahlborn ought not to be given the preference. Kettner was going over there to see about it, but he went back to Washington without paying the Mother Colony the promised visit.

And the Mother Colony candidates are wondering upon what rocks their faiths are founded. They are as much up in the air as they were before Kettner began his post office appointment excursions. They say that Ahlborn has the same expansive smile that encircles the countenance of the sure ones like Charles D. Overshiner, prospective and almost certainly postmaster at Santa Ana to succeed L. L. Shaw, and James Fullerton, who holds a like position in regard to the post office and Postmaster Edwards at Orange. At present one of Ahlborn's dearest hopes is that the smile will be the kind that won't rub off.

Ahlborn's opposing candidates, of whom there are several, are afraid that Kettner will fix the appointments up before he gets back from Washington. J. W. Duckworth's term ends in a month or so, and just as like as not Kettner will never pay that promised visit to Anaheim.

Fullerton has burst into the postal appointment fight. Edwards of Fullerton, who now holds the office, is not to get out for a year or two, and the Democrats in that section seemed to think it just as well to wait for awhile before breaking into the running. About two weeks ago some body started the talk that R. S. Gregory was a good deal more than likely to be in a receptive mood. That little talk opened up another hidden candidacy, among them being that of S. N. Fuller.

Gregory was a field deputy under County Assessor Sleeper during the assessments of 1911 and 1912. Fuller was once upon a time, about seven years ago, the Democratic candidate for county clerk. He is a mighty good fellow—so is Gregory, as to that—but if he does not get any closer to the post office job than he did to the county clerk's in his race against W. B. Williams, he won't be very close. But the talk over around Fullerton way indicates that Gregory and Fuller are not going to be the only candidates.

Speaking of Fullerton, the Watchman has heard that Delbert Brunton of that city has concluded not to be a candidate for county superintendent of schools. Brunton is principal of the high school at Fullerton. About three months ago it was stated that he as a Progressive was going to run against Dick Mitchell. They say it is all off, and up to the present time Mitchell has it all to his lonely.

The state central committee of the Progressive party in California did a good thing in San Francisco the other day. It did a lot of good things, but the thing that the Watchman has in mind is something that bears upon local politics.

The state central committee passed a resolution advising county central committees not to take part in local politics. In other words, the state organization believes in living up to the spirit as well as the letter of the new law that aims to take county offices out of the realm of politics.

That question is one that the Orange County Progressive Central Committee has under advisement. The question was brought up at the meeting at Orange two or three weeks ago, and at that time Steele Finley and S. M. Cradick said that they thought the committee ought to bring out a county ticket. There were others of the same opinion, and still others who could not see it that way at all. After talking it over, the matter was postponed to the next meeting of the committee, and that meeting has not yet been held.

A Santa Ana Socialist is authority for a statement to the effect that the Orange County Socialists probably will not endeavor to get out candidates for county and township offices. They will make a fight to show their strength for state and congressional candidates. If the Progressives also take this view, the outlook for a purely non-partisan election for county and township offices will be brightened considerably. Each of those parties casts several hundred votes in this county.

Thinking Helpful Thoughts

Strong, true thoughts are messengers of light. They are the power which is building the Temple of Redeemed Humanity. This very moment our influence is limitless; the whole world is our field.

Some of our hardest experiences are the very things that in the end contribute most to our happiness. Even Jesus learned obedience by the things which he suffered. Of course, while we are passing through the trial we do not always see it in the true light; but when we can learn to do this the greatest element of discord will be eliminated. Through such elimination disease will be overcome. The way we think of life, the way we picture things, affects the body for good or ill; and when we can rest consciously in the thought that all is working together for good our bodies will respond wonderfully to this mental tonic. If we hold this thought and are in touch with the Great Spirit of wholeness which is the only source of power, health and happiness, we can effectively help others to health. There is nothing arbitrary in God's dealings with us.

Only those who are so filled with love for their brothers that they actually breathe forth blessings upon them receive in any degree the true blessings of life. Beauty comes from within; and the soul which is beholding the beauty of holiness sees beauty everywhere; but he who lives exclusively toward the outer realm, seeing everything in a detached and partial way, sooner or later becomes despondent, pessimistic, powerless.

Two people will look at the same scene and to one it is filled with beauty while the other sees so little in it that he is bored by the view. Everything shapes from the center of life, and to know strength, patience, hope, love, beauty, we must know them in ourselves. Then we shall find them everywhere. Through the low of suggestion we can become just what we will to become and do what we will to do. We can exercise it for ourselves as well as for others, but this can be done only by being pure in our motives. We can will to be well, and if our desire is to use our health and strength for others there is nothing selfish in such a will. We can will to be prosperous also if it is in order to do for others and if we would not prosper at the expense of another.

Everything, then, which we know is right for us to do or be, we should hold strongly in mind, with the calm assurance that we shall realize it all. Some people hold a thought in a weak, fearful or passive way, but we must focus the full force of the Life on that which we know to be ours; and when we have fully realized it in the realm of the ideal it will surely materialize in the outer realm.

Move Acids, Gases and Clogged Waste from Liver and Bowels

Get a 10-cent box now.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. D. D. D. In Hospitals; Standard Skin Cure

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands?

That fluid is the famous D. D. D. prescription for eczema.

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institution on application), writes regarding a patient. "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

DR. GEO. T. RICHARDSON frankly writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

MONDAY CLUB MEETS

Prof. Stewart Read Interesting Paper on Ancient, Modern Accounting Methods

The Monday Club listened to an interesting paper last evening by Prof. W. I. Stewart of the commercial department of the high school, on the subject of Ancient and Modern Methods of Accounting. The development of the science of accounting has been slow and gradual. The earliest system was the abacus, consisting of rings and discs. The abacus is still in use in China today. The speaker described the early systems in Babylon, Assyria and Egypt and traced the development of methods down to the highly developed double entry systems of today. The double entry method originated in Italy, where the first treatise on book-keeping was written in the year 1494, two years after the discovery of America. The first book in English was published in London in 1543.

The science of accounting bears the same relation to business that the science of navigation bears to shipping. It aims to show the financial position of the enterprise. The present day tendency is towards the simplification of entries, and the elimination of intermediate books of account. The most significant development today is the loose-leaf ledger in place of the old solid bound ledger. Adding machines and counting devices also greatly simplify the work of accounting.

Prof. Stewart explained the system in use in such large department stores as Montgomery Ward & Company and Sears, Roebuck & Company of Chicago, and the wonderful clock-like precision and accuracy with which the enormous mail-order business of these concerns is conducted. Large establishments like these frequently do business of a million dollars a day in mail orders. He spoke also of the wonderful precision with which large automobile manufacturers are able to figure construction cost.

The paper was very illuminating throughout and gave to the members of the club a new comprehension of the vastness and intricacy of modern business transactions.

After the usual discussion by the members the club adjourned. The club voted to make the meeting for December 29th an open meeting to be held at the home of one of the members. Mr. A. B. Gardner will give the paper on this occasion and will discuss the subject of the "T. W. W's."

VETERANS BANQUET

One Hundred Fifty Members and Wives Enjoy Turkey Supper Last Night

The annual meeting and banquet of the Veteran Odd Fellows Association is one of the most enjoyable of events in the circles of that organization and that last night was the largest if not the most pleasant in the association's history.

One hundred and fifty people partook of the splendid meal prepared by the Veteran Rebekahs, cooks hard to beat. The ladies had beautifully trimmed the banquet room, which took on a most inviting and Christmasy effect with its gorgeous red-berried holly and trailing asparagus ferns. A chandelier center piece was suspended over the tables and the light from within shed a soft glow over a large basket from which the red berries peeped out and vines trailed over the snowy napery. Each plate was marked with a pretty souvenir card.

J. H. Kerch, president of the association, presided and after a brief talk in which he reviewed the history and progress of the organization, which now has 101 members and during its two years of existence has not lost a member, presented Walter B. Tedford as toastmaster. His remarks, as usual, were greatly enjoyed, as were also the toasts of J. B. Joplin and C. D. Overshiner, the two past presidents; Dr. C. D. Barnes, W. J. Cozad, C. F. Crose, Dr. I. D. Mills; Mesdames F. H. McElree, "B. Utley, Theo. Lacy and I. D. Mills. Chas. S. Shaw gave a pleasant reading.

After the toasts the guests adjourned to the hall where a social hour was enjoyed.

Splendid Dinner

The regular monthly meeting of the teachers and officers of the First Baptist Sunday school was held last night at the G. P. Hill home. In the center of one table was a small Christmas tree decorated with candles and glittering objects. On the other table was Santa Claus with his sleigh and reindeer. Holly and other red and green decorations were used to make up unusually attractive tables.

IN THE SHADOW

The last sad rites over the remains of Mrs. Lizzie B. W. Stearns, wife of Prof. C. H. Stearns of the Intermediate High School, were held yesterday at Smith's chapel. The casket was covered and surrounded by hosts of lovely floral offerings, tributes of sorrowing friends.

A quartet from the Congregational church, composed of Mrs. W. H. Crose, Mrs. A. Beals, Mrs. C. F. Crose and Mrs. A. E. Chapman, beautifully and feelingly sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "Asleep in Jesus."

Rev. Fred Staff, pastor of the Congregational church, spoke impressively of the life of the deceased.

Called to Rest

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Cooke, a pioneer of this city, were shocked to hear of her death today. Mrs. Cooke has been in fairly good health and spirits, but Monday was attacked with indigestion. Simple remedies were administered by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fannie Wares, and she appeared to recover and went to bed feeling well.

This morning when Mrs. Wares went to her room, she found Mrs. Cooke breathing her last.

You Can Change Your Will

Some persons seem to have the idea that a will, once made, is irrevocable. This is not the case. The provisions of a will can be changed whenever the maker wishes. But the important thing is to have a will and a good executor so that your estate will be well taken care of should anything happen to you.

The Orange County Savings & Trust Company would be pleased to point out to you the great advantages of a corporate over an individual executor. Come in and talk it over with us.

CARELESSNESS
SUBJECT SUIT

Each Side Sues Other Machine
Responsible for Col-

Who was responsible for the collision of two automobiles on the bridge across the San Gabriel river near Whittier on Sept. 17, 1912?

It is up to Judge Thomas to decide that question, and upon the answer depends judgment in an action now on trial.

P. L. Cuccia and his wife, of Los Angeles, are the plaintiffs and G. W. Schindeldecker and his wife, of Anaheim, are the defendants.

Cuccia asserts that Schindeldecker drove his automobile in a careless manner, and veered into Cuccia's machine, with the result that Mrs. Cuccia was thrown through the windshield. It is asserted that the woman's nose was almost cut off, and that her face was otherwise severely cut. For personal damages, judgment of $2500 is asked.

Schindeldecker denies that he was at fault, and alleges that it was Cuccia who was careless in his driving. He says that his automobile was badly damaged, and that Cuccia should pay him $1000 for that.

John C. Stice, of Los Angeles, is attorney for the plaintiffs and Weiste & Dutton, of Anaheim, are in court for the defendants.

Default Entered

Today the default of the defendant in the action of S. G. Southerland against J. R. Teasdale was entered.

I. W. Parsons, 402 W. Fourth St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I have advised a great many people to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I have heard them all say that they are the best kidney remedy they have ever taken. I was quite bad off with my kidneys when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The kidney secretions contained sediment and passed too often. Sometimes the passages were passed with a scalding sensation. My back was so lame and painful that in the morning I had to catch hold of something to pull myself up. Doan's Kidney Pills went to the seat of the trouble and toned up my system. I publicly told of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills before, and I think just as highly of them now as ever. Whenever I notice that my kidneys are disordered or need a tonic, I take Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon fix me up."

This November Proved to be a Month of Abundant
Rainfall

The monthly bulletin of the California Development board for November 1913, follows:

This bulletin is based upon special reports by reliable authorities in various counties covering nearly every section of the state.

Weather review and outlook by G. H. Wilson, official in charge, United States weather bureau:

"November, 1913, was a month of abundant precipitation, distributed both as to duration and amount, throughout the state. While generous rains were falling in the valleys and foothills, heavy snow fell in the higher mountain levels. During the first week the precipitation was in the form of gentle showers lasting two or three days, followed by periods of warm, clear weather of about the same duration. The rainfall was almost entirely absorbed by the ground, with little or no run-off, and but slight rise in the streams. The weather was seasonable, with no marked periods of warm or cold days. At the close of the month the ground was in excellent condition for farming operations and green feed had made good growth."

Though the early months of the year gave a bad outlook for the farmer, the great variety of production and the large range of latitude of California has prevented entire failure of any crop and in many instances record productions have been made. The new enterprises introduced into California are showing remarkably well. Rice, tobacco, dates and cotton all give promise of becoming permanent industries.

The October shipments by sea to foreign countries were $12,492,625, to non-contiguous territory, $1,283,514—the heaviest record in the history of the port.

It is to be noted that rice culture has proven successful in Tulare county. Extensive planting will be done next year. The rice harvest near Richvale in many instances has run from 4500 to 5700 pounds per acre. The Lake Spaulding dam of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company is nearly completed. Water from the dam will develop 33000 horsepower.

A Butte county man owns 3000 acres in Lassen county on which is a mountain of iron ore. It is his intention to work the ore by the electric process.

Rich marble deposits have been located near Coyote Wells in Imperial county. The Pioneer Brick Company of Visalia has purchased 150 acres of high-grade clay deposit for fire brick. The Southern Pacific is working on a new line from Seaford to Ballarat in the potash mining district.

Government cruisers report 425,000,000 feet of lumber—sugar, pine, poplar, cedar and fir—in the Tehama forest reserve, which will soon be placed on the market.

California oil shipments last month embraced 15,000,000 gallons refined oil to the Orient, and 22,600,000 gallons of fuel oil to other markets by water route. These are the largest monthly sales on record.

The citrus season closed on October 31 with a total of 18,085 carloads. The coming crop is conservatively estimated at 38,000 carloads.

Shipments of deciduous fruits to November 10 amounted to over 13,000 carloads, as against 12,936 carloads in 1912.

The secretary of state reports the auto vehicle registrations for the month of October at 2497; for November at 1508.

CAN TRAVEL ON WEST FIFTH SOON

Good Roads Open as Far as Blackenbeckler's Store Thursday

Concrete Culverts Are Being Placed on Anaheim-Olinda Road

Finishing touches are being put upon the section of good roads on West Fifth street between the Santa Ana city limits and Blackenbeckler's store, and by Thursday morning that section of road will be open to the public. For weeks past traffic between Santa Ana and the county to the west has had to be largely over West First and West Seventeenth streets, but with the opening of this portion a betterment in conditions will be found.

Yesterday rock screenings had been placed on nearly all of this section, including the West Fifth street bridge, and Contractor Chamberlain expects to have all the oil and screenings on before tomorrow night. The finishing work will then be continued west of the store.

Withers & Crites, the firm that has the contract for the road between Anaheim and Olinda, has commenced putting in concrete culverts on that job.

Concrete piers have been finished for the Talbert bridge across the Santa Ana river, and the false structure for the girders is now being placed. The Los Angeles Bridge & Construction Company has the contract for this bridge.

SEASON PROVES SUCCESSFUL ONE

Peaches Only Fruit that Failed to Bring Good Returns

FRESNO, Dec. 9.—The deciduous fruit season of the San Joaquin Valley, which has just come to a close, has been one of the most successful in the history of this industry. This condition applies not only here but in other parts of the state as well.

Peaches were the only fruit that did not bring good returns and some growers suffered losses, but on cherries, pears, both Bartlett and winter, plums and grapes, record prices were the rule.

The short crop in the East was to a great extent responsible for the good prices that were received by California growers and there is a possibility that the record of this year may not be equalled in 1914 on this account.

The Eastern fruit crop was only about 50 or 60 per cent of normal and as the demand was the same as in former years, a big call was made for California fruit. The shortage in the East was not advertised in loud tones but as the season progressed it developed that there was an unusual shortage.

Shipments out of this section this year exceeded those of last year, although it was believed that the record established in 1912 would stand for some time. The heavy shipments this year were made possible because the Eastern demand brought high prices and the continuation of high prices throughout the season, without a break, encouraged local growers to ship all the fruit they could possible secure.

It is estimated that about 3500 cars of green fruit moved out of the San Joaquin Valley district this year. Of this total, about 2600 cars were grapes and about 800 cars were peaches. The balance of the cars contained miscellaneous deciduous fruits. The total shipments in 1912 just exceeded 3000 tons.

MOST DELICIOUS WINTER VEGETABLES FROM TRUE'S RANCH

Mr. and Mrs. Frank True came down from their Santa Ana Canyon ranch yesterday, and among the friends upon whom Mrs. True called was the family of the editor of this paper.

Of course everybody is always glad to see Mrs. True, especially those who have been her next door neighbors as have the editor's family. But her visit to them yesterday was especially pleasant because she brought them a big basket of fine vegetables from the True ranch—cucumbers, green peppers, string beans, etc. They were all fresh and crisp and of delicious flavor—not a touch of frost effect. Mrs. True says the canyon ranch is maintaining the reputation it made last winter of being absolutely frostless.

The Man Who Neglects Himself
—When his condition points to kidney trouble takes an unwise risk. Backache, pain and soreness over the kidneys, nervous or dizzy spells, poor sleep, are all symptoms that will disappear with the regular use of Foley Kidney Pills. They put the kidneys and bladder in a clean, strong and healthy condition, and rheumatic pains, stiff joints, lumbago and irregular bladder action are all relieved promptly when Foley Kidney Pills are taken. DINNER CHATS WITH WALNUT GROWERS

By J. G. Berneike, M. D.

This interesting of walnut and apricot trees has been quite the fashion among growers for the last 10 or 15 years. And yet it should be considered rather in the light of an experiment than as an accepted and established practice. The man who is thinking of doing so should first get the opinion of those who have had experience, and should carefully weigh the pros and cons.

The motive for this practice consists of the idea that because the walnut tree grows to a large size and trees should be planted 50 or 60 feet apart, and because it takes considerable time for walnut trees to come into bearing, therefore it is desirable to plant some smaller trees between that will come into bearing early and will give an income while waiting for the walnuts. That looks all right enough. But we find certain disadvantages about this combination. The walnut tree needs more water than the apricot tree. It needs water at a time when the apricot tree cannot be watered. If the apricot trees find the soil congenial they will thrive and do so in a few years at the expense of the walnut trees. If allowed to remain too long (and growers always hesitate about cutting out thrifty apricot trees) the growth of the walnut trees becomes stunted, and it will take them several years to recover. There are not a few growers who agree with me that this combination is not the best.

Some growers prefer to interplant with orange trees. The orange tree needs more water than the walnut tree. It looks like a better combination than the other. Personally I have not sufficient experience with it.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S. Others are imitations.

but I have observed that a row of walnut trees next to orange trees has done better in growth and crop than walnut trees in the same orchard mingled with apricot trees. I am strongly of the opinion that it is best to set out a solid orchard of its own kind, whether of walnuts or apricots or oranges. Each of them needs some different treatment, especially in the matter of irrigation and cover crops, and this can not be accomplished successfully with trees interplanted. I venture the assertion that a grower can produce larger and better crops of each kind if he has each kind of tree by itself. It has also been found that grafted or budded walnuts begin to give a crop in a few years after planting. For that reason, if I wished to set out a walnut orchard I would either set it out entirely with walnut trees, 30 feet apart, expecting to thin them out to 60 feet apart in course of time, or else I would practice intercropping. There is quite a choice of crops available for summer and winter.

This brings up the question of how far distant to plant walnut trees. I am told by an old nurseryman that in Old England, trees stand nine to the acre. We are too apt to crowd our trees. As we pass some orchards with big walnut trees, it strikes us that they are too close together, and if half of them were cut out the other half would soon yield as big a crop or bigger than before.

In the month of October some walnut trees exhibited a freak of nature which puzzled the growers. Trees or limbs that were then pretty well defoliated came out with fresh green leaves and blossoms, apparently for a second crop. What would become of them? The blossoms and small nuts have dropped off. The tender foliage will be nipped by the frost. What will be the effect on next year's crop? If it has any effect it will be harmful, but by giving these trees special care in the spring the harmful effect can be counterbalanced. Plenty of water and manure will probably bring them out all right. An inquiry of the state horticultural commissioner's office brought this answer: "I have never known walnuts trees to blossom out of season, and so cannot give an opinion." Since this condition affected only trees that showed lack of soil moisture or had suffered perhaps more severely from the aphids, we need not apprehend any particular shortage of the crop from this cause. And the remedy is in our own hands. In regard to the walnut aphids the state horticultural commissioner says:

"It is a serious pest, but fortunately it is not equally bad every year. Frequently it does little harm." Certainly, let us hope so. We are, however, well satisfied that it cut our crop this year from 10 to 30 per cent in different orchards. The hot days in September did little harm in comparison. About three years ago I had two trees affected by aphids, and I observed that they lost their leaves early, the hulls shriveled and stuck to the shells, and the nuts were undersized. The aphids did not seem to spread, and there seemed to be none in 1912. So it is impossible to say whether or not we shall be troubled by them next year. Dr. A. J. Cook has promised to work on the problem and thinks that the propagation of the ashy gray ladybird, special enemy of the walnut aphid, will be a cheap and effective control measure. Again I must stop and get back to my work. The orchard calls for some work right now.

ANAHEIM-SANTA ANA
STAGE ESTABLISHED

Regular Trips Begin Between
These Two Places in Response to Demand

(From the Anaheim Daily Herald)
An automobile stage line between Anaheim and Santa Ana was established yesterday, when Gray & McDonough placed their two fine automobiles on the run between these two cities for regular trips. The service began yesterday and is bound to meet the approval of a large traveling public, who would like a more regular service between these two points. The trips will be made at intervals of about an hour and a half to two hours. One thing in particular which will undoubtedly be appreciated is the service which will be run in the evening.

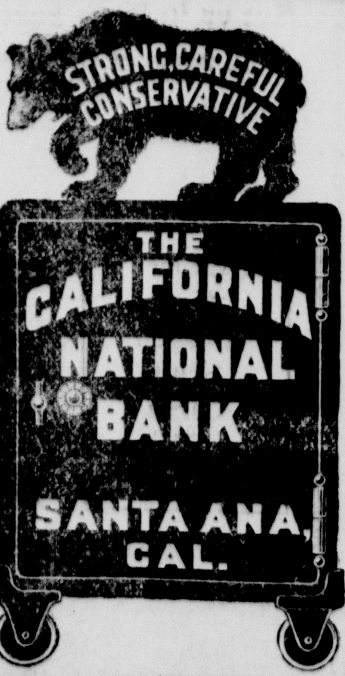

The prices established are popular, being 35 cents one way, and 50 cents for the round trip. Trips made in the evening, however, are 75 cents, which would seem just.

The Anaheim office of the line is at the Cherry Blossom, 120 East Center street. Reservations for theatre tickets can be made here also by calling up Sunset 42. The schedule for the auto stage appears in another column.

NOT BEYOND HELP AT 87
Sleep-disturbing, bladder weakness, stiffness in joints, weak, inactive kidney action and rheumatic pains, are all evidence of kidney trouble. Mrs. Mary A. Dean, 47 E. Walnut St., Taunton, Mass., writes: "I have passed by 87th birthday, and thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proved most beneficial in my case of kidney and bladder trouble." Elderly people will find Foley Kidney Pills both tonic and strengthening, and may be sure they contain no harmful drugs. Wingo's Drug Store.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET
Dried beans, with the exception of limas, show a decidedly strong tone. It is expected that by the first of the year pink beans will be 25 to 35 cents higher than at present, while small whites and Lady Washingtons are very firm. Small whites are about cleaned up, and this is strengthening the market for Lady Washingtons. Limas have been shipped in large quantities from the Ventura district thus far, despite the fact that the crop is somewhat smaller than anticipated, but it is believed that they will be held back from now on in expectation of higher prices later in the season.

Green beans were stronger yesterday. Cauliflower is cheaper. The scarcity of summer squash, owing to the lateness of the season, caused the quoted price of that vegetable to be as high as $1 a lug in some instances. Cabbage was a little easier.

The supply of persimmons continues very good, and they now constitute one of the leading varieties of fresh fruit on the market. Nearly all the apples and grapes are cold storage. Chestnuts were cheaper, owing to the receipt of a large consignment from Italy.

Eggs and butter have stiffened up a little since the recent show of weakness. Cheese is unchanged. None was reported in yesterday. Arrivals of butter were very light.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET
Dried beans, with the exception of Lima, show a decidedly strong tone. It is expected that by the first of the year pink beans will be 25 to 35 cents higher than at present, while small whites and Lady Washingtons are very firm. Small whites are about cleaned up, and this is strengthening the market for Lady Washingtons. Limes have been shipped in large quantities from the Ventura district thus far, despite the fact that the crop is somewhat smaller than anticipated, but it is believed that they will be held back from now on in expectation of higher prices later in the season.

Green beans were stronger yesterday. Cauliflower is cheaper. The scarcity of summer squash, owing to the lateness of the season, caused the quoted price of that vegetable to be as high as $1 a lug in some instances. Cabbage was a little easier.

The supply of persimmons continues very good, and they now constitute one of the leading varieties of fresh fruit on the market. Nearly all the apples and grapes are cold storage. Chestnuts were cheaper, owing to the receipt of a large consignment from Italy.

Eggs and butter have stiffened up a little since the recent show of weakness. Cheese is unchanged. None was reported in yesterday. Arrivals of butter were very light.

VILLA PARK IS IN THE REAL FROSTLESS BELT

Thriving Vegetables, Bell Peppers, and Green Beans Flourished During the Recent Cold Spell

The bell pepper industry that the ranchmen have recently taken up at Villa Park, a few miles northeast of Orange, and also the growing of green beans and other vegetables there at this season of the year, will be news to many who have not taken a trip through this frostless belt, situated around the edge of the foothills, where lies a large acreage of crisp winter vegetables.

Among the extensive bell pepper growers are G. Williamson, William H. Brown, D. Winfrey Sears, J. B. Handy and W. M. Popplewell.

Japanese are also engaged in growing the product on a large scale. Peppers are at present selling for 75 cents and $1 per crate, each crate weighing 60 pounds.

In February, March and April the demand for this product will be greater and the price higher. The product then will bring five cents per pound.

The season opened in September and will continue until April. This vegetable requires a great deal of water and is irrigated every 18 days.

The product is harvested green, picking being continuous without a slack during the season. The peppers are handled through the Villa Park Vegetable Association, being shipped to Los Angeles and other points.

Mr. Sears sent out a shipment of 750 pounds Saturday and reported other growers of the product were sending out larger shipments daily.

Green Beans 10 Cents a Pound

Another interesting fact is that the shipment of green beans commenced yesterday and perhaps one of the most important facts is that they are to bring the grower 10 cents per pound. The variety is the Ventura wax, Williamson being the shipper from Villa Park.

To the tourist the growing of green vegetables in mid-winter seems almost impossible. The absence of smudge pots in this locality is strong proof that it is really a frostless belt.

Ranchmen state that the growing of peas has been almost a failure in the section of Villa Park, the only cause given being that they failed to receive a good stand.

and push him into dark and evil-smelling stairways and cellars for his hide-and-seek, how can the community complain when he does not develop into a good citizen.

"Arraigned in the children's court recently for the heinous crime of playing ball in the street, a half clad little fellow was asked by the magistrate: 'What are the streets for?' The culprit, whose head barely reached the bench, thought hard and earnestly, his face white from starvation and fear. 'Automobiles, sir,' he finally faltered, and the magistrate sent him home straightway.

"In one of the most crowded districts last summer I saw a little girl cry and flee in terror from a fluttering butterfly that by some strange chance had been blown across the Hudson from the Jersey meadows. The only fields she had ever known were the asphalt and cobbles; the only insects within her knowledge had been roaches and spiders, and worse, and her only brooks were the gutter floods when the sweepers occasionally turned on the fire hydrant to flush the dirty pavements in her block.

"It is small wonder that when some occasional charity takes a handful of tenement children into the country for a week—those who have always lived in the city's din and cry—that it is so still it makes their ears hurt, and they beg to be taken back to the city."

Down by the East River as it turns around the park at Corlears Hook, there stands the new St. Rose's Free Home for Incurable Cancer where the Servants of Relief take care of about 65 destitute men and women and near which 15 years ago the first members of the Sisterhood began to nurse the victims of this disease where the invalids have crept safely into a peaceful security; they are pronounced by physicians to be the hostages of death, and therefore out of the grasp of operations or experiments. They take constant notice of the activities of the park across the street from the sun parlor windows, and they listen to their canaries and to their musical instruments.

The river is a never-ending source of interest, for it changes color and aspect like a human being, and the shipping is fascinating in its variety and characteristics. The navy yard is on the opposite shore, and many great ships come around the bend, anchoring near, but on the Brooklyn side. When, last summer, Captain William J. Maxwell brought the Florida into port, he did not forget to look at the Free Home, in which he is much interested. He steamed closer to the New York waterline than necessary. A sister who sees everything that others are not likely to, summoned the patients and they got a close look at the battleship.

"The air about the home," said Mother Alphonsa, who is in charge, "is abundant and often salty in fragrance, so that an open window means a real result. The imprisoned sufferers are refreshed in many ways, which is especially merciful to those who have traveled over the earth. A pastime of the inmates, particularly among the men, is the recounting of thrilling tales of adventure. The sisters sometimes come upon these monologues and believe every word that the veterans say.

The majority of the patients are purified, quiet, patiently smiling and pious souls, to whom the religious atmosphere of the home is an hourly comfort and consolation, and who are making the best of their time. It is from the citizens of New York that the poor have received this home, ready to do faithful work for the unwanted who will always be wanted here."

GUARDING AGAINST CROUP
—The best safeguard against croup is a bottle of Foley's Honey Tar Compound in the house. P. H. Ginn, Middletown, Ga., writes: "My children are very susceptible to croup, easily catch cold. I give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and in every instance they get prompt relief and are soon cured. We keep it at home and prevent croup." Use it also for coughs, colds, hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchial and lagrippe coughs. It contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. Good's Drug Store.

Stomach Troubles Disappear
Stomach, liver and kidney troubles, weak nerves, lame back and female ills disappear when Electric Bitters are used. Thousands of women would not be without a bottle in their home. Eliza Pool of Depeew, Okla., writes: "Electric Bitters raised me from a bed of sickness and suffering and has done me a world of good. I wish every suffering woman could use this excellent remedy and find out, as I did, just how good it is." As it has helped thousands of others, it surely will do the same for you. NEWSY NEWS FROM NEW YORK

By Carlton Ten Eyck

NEW YORK, Dec. 9. — Father Knickerbocker is wholly to blame for his delinquent children and the youngsters are not at fault for their sins, is the opinion of Ernest K. Coulter, founder of the Big Brother movement in New York, and who had a great deal to do with the establishment of the Children's court.

"It is the children of the city against the children that stand out most startlingly in the Children's courts," Coulter said. "The community robs the child in the congested district of everything a growing human being needs for health of mind and body—and then it would punish him when his efforts to win these chances for himself bring him in sharp contact with the law of the grown-up world. Were there anything like a national distribution of population, were the dwellers in the tenements not deprived of light and space, were the tenement children not desperately put to it for anything like normal play, there would be small work indeed for the children's courts, charitable and reformatory institutions.

"It is in indulging the God-given play instinct that the child, under proper supervision, best develops his physical, mental and moral side. When we force him to dodge about the garbage cans for his game of tag
